Course aims and objectives

While increasingly all lawyers have to have a basic grounding in technology law, it is also important that technology lawyers remain at the cutting edge of tech and innovation. At that cutting edge are two separate but related issues: the response of regulators and governments to the increasing power of technology companies; and the new and disruptive technologies only now coming on stream.

During the Conference four broad themes will be explored. The themes and sessions are as follows:

Platform Regulation

- A general discussion of issues including the Copyright Directive, platform tax, press regulation
- “Breaking up” the platforms

Technology Law

- Tech law and M&A law
- Digital deals

Innovation and the Law

- Simpler, automated, quicker and cheaper vs riskier and (ultimately) more expensive: can we really move to the 6 page contract and tick boxes?
- New tools – what is going on and what is out there

Cutting Edge Technology and the Law

- Mobility/Connected Technologies: 5G, IoT
Health Tech/Digital Health

The Conference will also include opportunities for networking with speakers and delegates.

Who Should Attend

- Tech Lawyers (in private practice and in-house, trainee to partner level)
- Tech Law academics and students
- Tech sector professionals & managers who need to understand the regulatory environment
- Anyone interested in global IT law
